Local Notes.

Lee houses are filled.
Wouldn't you like to be the coal man?

Few cases of poverty reported this winter.

The plumber has been "in good" during the cold snap.

The Lexington Elks are figuring on a big fair next summer.

There is much talk of big changes in the running of trains on the K. C.

Loafing at the depot is not so bad. Agent Patterson has not footed the bill.

Lancaster has more coal dealers than any town of her size. All good 'uns, too.

If the spring time were here, not only "Gentle Annie," but everybody else would rejoice and be glad.

The boy with the home made sled has been in his glory. "Mister, lemme hitch on?" could be heard all day.

Fishing (around store stoves) continues good. Some whoppers were caught during the extreme cold weather.

The Cincinnati Southern road has contracted for 500 houses to be built in the addition where the new machine shops are to be located in South Somerset.

The new furnaces for the Christian Church have arrived and will be ready for use Sunday morning. The regular services will be held in the church, at the usual hours.

Sanders brothers have taken charge of the Sanders & Walker planing mills and will continue the business at the old stand. Messrs. Sanders & Walker will continue to operate the flour mills and electric light plant.

People continue to head toward Somerset. Do you ask "Why?" Because there are more hustlers than moss backs in Somerset, and few, if any, space fillers who howl down every effort to advertise the town.

A Rain-Bringer.
Herbert Kinnard is working on a "three day" stock fair for next summer. If he succeeds, we are absolutely certain of that many days hard rain. A fair at Lancaster will bring rain when all other efforts fail.

Want Electric Road.
Nicholasville Journal:—Our people are anxious for the interurban railway between here and Lexington. Let it come, as our business men will be equal to the occasion. "What is sauce for the goose is the same for the gander."

Anderson Bowling, who sold his farm, in lower Garrard, purchased another in Laurel, and will move to that county at once. He resigned as chairman of the Garrard county Democratic committee and Hon. W. G. Gooch was elected to the position. Mr. Gooch was chairman last year and made a splendid officer.

Probable Changes in Trains.
There is much talk among railroad men in regard to a change to be made in the train service on K. C. and Knoxville divisions. All know that a change will be made, but nobody seems to know just what it will be. The fact that the Rowland branch is being greatly improved, and most all the Knoxville branch engineers have been riding with Uncle Henry Lammers learning the road, leads many to believe that a new train will be put on from Richmond straight through to Louisville. Evidently something will be doing in the Spring.

Mr. Miller Paints Word Pictures.
At the annual banquet given by the Louisville Board of Trade, our gifted friend, Hon. R. W. Miller, of Richmond, was one of the speakers. His subject was, "Kentucky's Opportunity." He painted flowery word pictures of the Commonwealth and carried his hearers on a rhetorical flight of prediction regarding the future greatness of the rose-tinted years to come. "We have journeyed through the valley of the shadow in Kentucky," he said. "The plowshare of hate has run deep in its furrow, but the sturdy virtues of our people have brought us to the heights of lofty aspirations and accomplishments and in the light of achievement the bitterness of the years gone will fade from memory."

Does It Pay?
He is a farmer, rich. His principles have always been to take up every thing in sight; more lands, larger crops, more buildings. Overwork killed his third wife years ago. His sons slid away from home at the first opportunity; his daughter married an old stick of a man just to get away from home. His sons and sons in law have engaged their lawyers and are now sitting on the fence like so many buzzards, waiting for the old man to die so they can divide up the wealth among them. There will be a large funeral some of these days, seventy carriages and that will be the last of the old man. Does it pay to work day and night and save up a lot of money and never spend a cent? Does it pay?

SADLY NEEDED.

One Week's Solid Work is Resulting in Great Good for Others Towns.

In several Kentucky towns, the ministers, and those Christians who could strain a point and "get away from business," have held a week of active service to God, including the visiting of the homes of the people to hold cottage prayer-meetings, sermons by the ministers, and, in fact have put in the whole week, day and night serving the Master. The result was an awakening of interest in religious matters and the conversion of many people who never had given a thought to the great hereafter. The Record would like to see this tried in Lancaster. Let the Christian people lay aside their mouse track doctrinal gab, buckle on the "Armor of the Lord" and devote a week to as faithful work as they would do if they knew the last trump was to be sounded on the following Sunday. We know this would work a great hard ship (?) on those who sit day in and day out and watch some little business like a cat watching a rat hole; it would rub the fur the wrong way on those fellows who think the world will cease to revolve if they are not at their post of business duty, but dont you believe that if every man who cuts such a wide swath in our churches on Sunday will do one half as much during one week that untold good will result. Be honest now, and ponder a moment, "Consider your ways." Let them feel the "Cleansing power" and refrain from sin, not "Just for today," but "Just for one week," and see if this long and unusual refrain from back-biting, gossiping, pulling down, drinking, swearing, overcharging, cheating, and so on will not have a good effect not only upon the unconverted, but on those Sunday-only, dress parade people whose names are upon the church books and who attend all Sunday services but who, in their every day walks of life are as mean as the devil. It strikes The Record that the week of prayer conducted at that recently held in Danville and other towns is just what Lancaster needs, and it hereby offers its services to the ministers and practical Christians in working up such a move. We will not only give all space wanted, but will print, gratis, daily programmes to be distributed among the people. What say ye? Let those who sing about "O how I love Jesus" come out "with the goods," prove their assertion, and help others to get in the right road and do the same thing.

Should Be Able to Support a Husband.
"Until a woman is able to support a husband she should not contemplate matrimony," declared Mr. N. W. Ferris, recent Democratic candidate for Governor of the State of Michigan, in an address before the National Commercial Teachers' Federation at Chicago. "While I believe it is the duty of every woman to marry, still I also believe that before taking so serious a step a girl should look ahead and prepare for the possible future misfortunes. Therefore every girl should fit herself for an emergency and be prepared to step into her husband's place in the support of the family in the event of anything befalling him which will unfit him for work."

Fishing Club Organized.
The Lake Placid Fishing Club was organized Friday night and the following officers were chosen: J. M. Rothwell, president; R. E. McRoberts, vice president; Fred P. Frisbie, secretary; J. E. Stormes, treasurer. The following were chosen as board of directors: H. T. Logan, Major Burnside, Dr. Burnett. The club will issue stock, and a great many shares have been sold. The remaining few can be had upon application to the treasurer. For the sum $100, the city granted the Club the exclusive fishing of the lake, and the Club will proceed to stock it with the most desirable fish. They will also protect the lake from dynamites, seiners and fishing out of season. They will also see that boys, idle negroes and other objectionable characters are kept off the premises, which, as all fair-minded people will agree, will be of great advantage to consumers of the water. As some young fish have been placed in the lake, and others will be added, the club will prohibit all fishing for at least two years, which insures a good start and abundant supply.

Hold On, Somewhere.

The Blue Grass Clipper says it hears much about forging to the front, taking time by the forelock, seizing the bull by the horns, and the like, and also that the man with the tail hold is entirely ignored. Nine men out of ten wisely follow and succeed, where one does who changes around at the front all the time. If you miss the forelock, seize the tail. It is hanging on more than the particular hold that counts. The man will go just as fast and nearly as far who has hold of the tail as the one hanging onto the horn; besides, he can hold on better and is in less danger. Young man, dont be too anxious to get rapidly to the front but hang on to what you have, and you will get ahead in the world just as fast as you deserve.

We are not seeking a great bulk of business, but instead prefer the confidence of careful thinking people who desire to do business with an institution ever ready and glad to provide all accommodations which safe banking will permit.

Gossip About People

A Brief Mention of the Comings and Goings of Those We Are Interested In.

Mr. D. M. Lackey has been sick.

Mrs. G. M. Patterson is visiting friends in Berea.

Dr. J. Gilbert has been in town for a few days.

Mr. W. K. Shugars is visiting relatives at McKinney.

Marshall Eason visited his son, at Rowland, first of the week.

Miss Mary Miller, of Richmond, is visiting Miss Lizzie Hudson.

Louis Landram was in Cincinnati on business Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Eva Grant, after a visit to relatives here, has returned to Danville.

Mr. Cal Newby, who has been suffering greatly from rheumatism, is some better.

Mrs. Frank Folger, of Nicholasville, has been visiting Misses Allie and Mary Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stormes leave this week for Florida to spend the remainder of the winter.

Miss Marie Joseph, who has been spending several months with relatives in New York, has returned home.

Burgin cor. Harrodsburg Democrat: Miss Rebecca Clark, of Garrard county, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Nancy Dunn.

Misses Hallie Hamilton, Lee Prather, Lula Campbell and Callie Adams, of Richmond, have been visiting Miss Sallie Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Soper entertained a few friends Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. W. R. Gott and wife, formerly of Richmond, but now of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jones, and two boys, of Atlanta, have been guests of Mrs. M. Belle Burnside. Mrs. Jones was Miss Mame McLean and used to live here.

Mr. C. T. Baker, of Jackson, Miss., was here a few days since on a visit to his family. Mr. B. is superintendent of the Southern Mutual Investment Company's office at that point, a position both responsible and lucrative.

The Frankfort Journal says:—Former Governor William O. Bradley has purchased the residence property of Dr. S. B. Holmes, on Wapping street, and will present it to his daughter, Mrs. John G. South. The deal was closed Wednesday but the terms have not been made public.

Rev. Bronson Ray, who has been visiting relatives at Buckeye, returned Friday, to his pastoral duties in Nashville. He is pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church in that city, and has been so engaged for seven years. He is a Garrard county boy, and has many friends here who are glad to know that he is so nicely located and so well thought of by his congregation. Like all the Ray family, he is big-hearted and has a head full of brains.

Editor Ed C. Walton, in an interesting write-up of a visit to relatives in the thriving city of Atlanta, speaks as follows regarding some Lancaster people:—"The ex-Kentuckians who now live in Atlanta are doing their share toward the upbuilding of the city. Will Elkin and Will Watson, old Lancaster boys, have gotten rich in the drug business and Mr. Watson has retired. Dr. Simp Elkin is not only one of the city's most eminent physicians but is one of its richest men. His wife was Miss Nell Duncan, of Lancaster, a sister of our Mrs. R. C. Warren.

Lancaster friends will be glad to hear of the promotion of Frank Hoffmann, the clever son of Mr. Gus Hoffmann, for some years manager of Crab Orchard Springs. The Indianapolis Star says: Frank Hoffmann, who three years ago was a bellboy at the Grand Hotel, returned to that place last night as night clerk. He left Indianapolis to go to French Lick, and was soon behind the counter there. His success at that place induced Mr. Taggart to bring him to Indianapolis and place him in his present responsible position.

Memorial.

Mrs. Mary Harlan, who recently died in Boyle county, was 69 years old, and had been a member of New Providence church near Danville for over 50 years. She was a Christian lady and her charitable deeds will be remembered by her friends and neighbors. Her only child is Mrs. M. F. Rout, of this county, to whom she left a handsome estate.

A Substantial Remembrance.

Never in the experience of the present editor, nor do we believe at any other time, has The Record been so substantially rewarded for its humble efforts as was done last Saturday by the members of the Lancaster Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Ever since we mounted the tripod, the columns of the paper have been open, gratis, to this noble order, and we have never knowingly missed an opportunity to, in our feeble way, help them in their great work. This was not done with the expectation of any remuneration whatever, but from the reason that we appreciated their efforts to promote sobriety and Christianity in every way. We say, unhesitatingly, and without any desire to detract from the church, that the W. C. T. U., has done more than any organization in Lancaster to keep out saloons and stamp out the liquor traffic, and, furthermore, that if Lancaster had enough men who had the necessary nerve to back up this work, there would not be a blind tiger or other joint in the town. We have preached this, in our humble way for the ten years we have been at the helm of The Central Record, and, as a slight token of their appreciation of the paper's work, the ladies visited our humble little home, Saturday afternoon, and stocked the larder with all kinds of substantial and dainties, in fact more than a country editor can secure in a year's time. We will not attempt to express our feeling of gratitude here, but hope that we may, at no distant day, be able to prove how deeply grateful we are.
